

Canned vegetables and fruits

Marneuli Inc.

Georgia

The investors acquired a vegetable processing factory being idle for ten years.

The SSF loan allowed management to revitalize the infrastructure of the factory. Subsequently they received further funding from a local bank and started with installations of new processing lines (for tomato, cucumbers, apples, etc.).

Management organized sourcing of the required raw material from local farmers and partly started cultivation of tomato on own land.

The company sells its canned vegetables and fruits to local retailers and is in the process to broaden its product range.
